Instructors Eddie Chan and Dom Gamboa are not only highly-experienced law enforcement professionals from Northern California, but they are also expert instructors. Eddie is a current FTO Sergeant and Dom is a former Training Unit Officer. Each have decades of experience teaching law enforcement officers. They are obsessed with delivering highly engaging courses and they are the reason why our FTO training programs are so different than the typical "Death by Power Point" courses.

Looking to revamp your FTO program?

Consider this your train-the-trainer course. You'll leave this course with a solid plan on how to begin or overhaul your Field Training Program. You'll learn the simple concepts that will make your program successful directly from our highly experienced FTO Instructors.

Field Training Supervisors and Managers have to wear a lot of hats. They are trainers, risk-managers, schedulers, report auditors, and mentors all while balancing a ton of other duties. Most importantly, they are charged with making sure trainees are trained fairly and legally by FTOs who really know how to teach. This course equips supervisors and managers with the skills to do all that. Best of all, it is taught by expert FTO Supervisors who know you need practical takeaways, not outdated concepts from the past.

Course curriculum includes:

- Field Training Program Management
- Selection, Supervision and Removal of FTOs
- How to Make Your FTOs Expert Teachers
- How to Fix a Struggling Trainee
- How to Protect Your Agency from Liability
- Field Training Software such as LEFTA
- Training and Testing Scenarios
- Crucial Topics such as Use of Force Laws, Newer Generation Trainees, and more.
