High-risk critical incidents don't occur every day, but when they do, officers will be looking for you to lead. However, the conventional training that law enforcement leaders receive has often been bogged down in complicated ICS processes and lacked the type of practical tools that are useful in a crisis.

This course is full of easy-to-understand tools that will help you make sense of confusing and rapidly unfolding incidents and implement a safe tactical plan. Our instructors will present examples of how they used the same tools in real-world incidents.

Who Should Attend?

Command staff and supervisors who want to develop their skills to lead a large-scale, high-risk critical incident.

Why Should You Attend?

- ✔ Learn how to fix the top 7 problems that plague all major incidents!
- ✔ Learn how to identify priorities, assign roles, and make decisions!
- ✔ Learn the important lessons learned from large scale incidents including a tragic officer-down call!
- ✔ Learn how to manage chaos at your command post!

Senior Instructor David Bautista is a recently retired Lieutenant with the San Diego Police Department. He has over 29 years of experience, including working in the Patrol and the department's training division and over 13 years of SWAT experience as an operator, sniper, and team leader. David's passion is helping cops understand how the law should inform the tactics that they use on the street.

Captain Brian Bixler recently retired from the Los Angeles Police Department after 27 years of service. Brian was the captain in charge of the Metropolitan Division which included overseeing LAPD's SWAT team, K9s, and several other specialty platoons. He was instrumental in creating LAPD's disengagement policy.
