High-risk critical incidents don't occur every day, but when they do, officers will be looking for you to lead. However, the conventional training that law enforcement leaders receive has often been bogged down in complicated ICS processes and lacked the type of practical tools that are useful in a crisis.

This course is full of easy-to-understand tools that will help you make sense of confusing and rapidly unfolding incidents and implement a safe tactical plan. Our instructors will present examples of how they used the same tools in real-world incidents.

Who Should Attend?

Command staff and supervisors who want to develop their skills to lead a large-scale, high-risk critical incident.

Why Should You Attend?

- Learn how to fix the top 7 problems that plague all major incidents!
- Learn how to identify priorities, assign roles, and make decisions!
- Learn the important lessons learned from large scale incidents including a tragic officer-down call!
- Learn how to manage chaos at your command post!

Senior Instructor Dan Flippo recently retired as the Deputy Chief of the Santa Cruz PD (CA). Dan has 29 years of experience in operational roles including SWAT and Patrol. He understands your perspective no matter how big or small your agency is. He's an enthusiastic instructor who is committed to making sure you know how to manage any high-risk critical incident. Captain Brian Bixler recently retired from the LAPD after 27 years of service. Brian was the captain in charge of the Metropolitan Division which included overseeing LAPD's SWAT team, K9s, and several other specialty platoons. He was instrumental in creating LAPD's disengagement policy.
